ABOUT

I've been building things for clients since college — websites, mobile apps, automations, AI tools. Different projects, different industries, different problems. Over the years I've worked across many verticals — retail, fintech, agriculture, manufacturing, e-commerce, education, and more. I'm not from a CS background. I studied commerce (M.Com). I learned to build by actually building — for real clients, with real deadlines. Today I lead a team at Gosotek Technology and was promoted to Team Lead within 4 months. I use AI tools like Claude Code and GPT every day — not as a gimmick, but because they help me ship faster and learn faster. My latest projects are linked below — you can check every single one right now.
